Bridgewater Credit Union Hires New Branch Manager in Quincy

Sam Sirisouk brings 20 years of industry experience to new role

Lawrence, Mass. (January 28, 2020) – Bridgewater Credit Union, a division of Merrimack Valley Credit Union, has hired Sisamouth (Sam) Sirisouk of Quincy as the organization’s new branch manager in Quincy. Sirisouk brings 20 years of experience in the financial and banking industry to his new role.

“We are thrilled to welcome Sam to our family. Sam not only has a vast knowledge of the industry, but a local perspective on the Quincy community,” said John Howard, President & CEO, Merrimack Valley Credit Union. “We know he will work with the capable Quincy team already in place to provide excellent service to our members.”

Prior to joining Bridgewater Credit Union, Sirisouk held managerial roles at Cambridge Savings Bank, Citizens Bank and People’s United Bank. In his role at Bridgewater Credit Union, Sirisouk will manage the Quincy team, work with community organizations, and ensure that members’ financial needs are being met.

“I joined the Bridgewater Credit Union team because of the organization’s culture and relationship with the local community right where I live,” Sirisouk said. “In my new role, I look forward to getting more involved with the community and helping more residents with their financial needs at every stage of their lives.”

Sirisouk will represent Bridgewater Credit Union at the 2020 Lunar New Year Festival at North Quincy High School on Sunday, February 2, 2020. He will set up a booth to speak with community members and to discuss the organization's financial offerings.
