Merrimack Valley Credit Union team members get their hands dirty at clean up

Seven employees volunteer at Blue Hills Clean Up Day

Lawrence, Mass. (September 28, 2021) – On Sunday, September 26, seven Merrimack Valley Credit Union (MVCU) team members spent their morning cleaning up the trails at the Blue Hills Reservation. Along with two family members, the team of nine worked to cut down trees, clean out trenches, pick up litter, and prepare the trails for the winter season at the state park in Milton, Mass.

“Our team members love being involved in the community and The Blue Hills Clean Up Day was a perfect opportunity for us to come together and get our hands dirty,” said Olivia Pink, MVCU Marketing Coordinator and volunteer coordinator for this event. “We haven’t been able to be active participants in as many community events as we were prior to COVID-19, so this opportunity to help out in an outdoor setting was a great way to lend a hand safely.”

MVCU’s volunteers were: Toeun Pot, Mortgage; Anita Parker, Compliance Officer; Coral Ferreira, Compliance; Babu Srinivasan, Information Technology; Anthony Marino, Organizational Development; Amanda Prew, Mortgage; and Olivia Pink; Marketing.
